9. Your personal experience – overall evaluation of Mobility study period

This section offers the opportunity to start revising your life during this stay abroad. It should not take more than 15 to 20 minutes all together.

One or more than one question could potentially help you to revise in prayer or not with the Lord, or by yourself:

- What am I grateful for?
- What am I proud of?
- What I am ashamed of?
- What have I to adjust to?
- What would I like to improve with in mind other future experiences abroad or in my own country?
- Have I experienced loneliness or not and how?
- Did I met someone supportive of my experience to speak about it and ask advises over it or not?

This is more likely a personal exercise and the result of it does not have to be communicate as such.

However, it seems to be a good start before answering the questions listed here below. Besides, you may even feel necessary to go back to some previous sections in order to modify your judgement.

Judgement of academic outcome of the mobility period:
